

Dear Friend of Weatherby's, Winter 2013

As we are now past the Holidays, we would like to take a moment to THANK YOU for helping to make our TENTH (10th!) year at Weatherby's our best year – so far. And we would like to thank those of you that have recommended Weatherby's to family and friends the past 10 years as we would not be where we are today without all of your support. Owning Weatherby's has been a great ride these 10 seasons, although rarely has it been an easy ride. With great effort, come great rewards and one of the greatest for us has been raising our children here and seeing the legacy of Weatherby's grow in a challenging economy. We have made great strides in up-keep. Improvements to our facilities and service ensure a great experience for our guests while we continue to forge ahead.

We recently participated in a Trout Unlimited show in Portland, ME that raised money to get Maine kids fishing, and will be at the Marlborough, MA Fly Fishing Show January 18, 19, 20 so come by and see us if you are in the neighborhood. During the 2012 season we hosted outdoor writer King Montgomery and his plan is to return with fly fishing legend Lefy Kreh in 2013. King published a nice article for us in Eastern Fly Fishing magazine about Grand Lake Stream spring 2012, and is working on a smallmouth story for 2013. We also had the privilege of hosting LL Bean Guide to the Outdoors TV show in May 2012, which aired in January 2013 on the Outdoor Channel and will continue to air throughout the year.

We do have some sad news to share – Dick Turmenne, a long time fly fishing guide for Weatherby's and a Federation of Fly Fisher's casting instructor, passed away after a very brief battle with cancer. Dick was diagnosed late September and passed on Thanksgiving. He managed to guide for much of October for spawning salmon, when they are large and colorful.

Many of you cast your first fly or caught your first salmon with Dick. He was a regular on the stream and many more of you have shared the water with him. He will be missed in Grand Lake Stream and at Weatherby's.

Finally, after a multi-year hiatus on rate increases, we finally moved to increase our rates slightly. Along with minor changes to our rate structure, we have expanded family discounts to include both July and August, and our fall special will remain unchanged at $995 for a full week. In addition, we are doubling our full week discount for the balance of the season to 10%. We are confident that we provide the best value in food, lodging and service in the northeast when it comes to traditional fishing and hunting vacations. Use of our kayaks, canoes and Orvis waders, Orvis fly rods and spinning rods will continue to be provided to our guests at no charge. Please visit our web site for a complete list of lodging specials.

As always, we look forward to hosting your trip to Grand Lake Stream. Please let us know how we can help you.

Warmly,

Jeff

The 2012 fishing season brought another proverbial boat load of big fish to the net. Although no records were set, you should have seen the ones that got away! Remember the anglers listed below only claim to have caught these fish. Often times there are no photos nor witnesses. These are real fish stories told by real fishermen. All fish were released alive! Fish of note include Carson McEvoy’s pickerel on May 27 - his first cast of the 2012 season, and Tony Luzin’s smallmouth of June 12 - two 15 inchers simultaneously on the same lure - 30 inches!

My first time at Weatherby’s after having gone to other Maine lodges. The fishing was good but the lodge was excellent. I’ve noticed that others have mentioned Jeff and the staff – they are all right. The people make this place special its comfortable, food is excellent and the atmosphere encourages a good time and a pleasant experience. I am already planning my spring trip. Anonymous, MA

From the time you arrive until you leave you are guaranteed an adventure not to be forgotten. Fly fish in beautiful Grand Lake Stream or cast in any of the numerous rivers or lakes. Your guide will make sure you have a fine day--a successful catch and a fabulous lunch. Fishing on the lakes and rivers in a Grand Laker Canoe and taking in the fresh outdoors is fantastic. Would love to do this every year....Margaret, PA

Recommended Reading: The Poacher’s Son

Set in the wilds of Maine, this is an explosive tale of an estranged son thrust into the hunt for a murderous fugitive—his own father. The Poacher’s Son is a sterling debut of literary suspense. Taut and engrossing, it represents the first in a series featuring Mike Bowditch. Author Paul Doiron is the editor of Downeast Magazine and his writing has received numerous accolades. Rumor has it that the next book in the series will include Weatherby’s! More info at www.pauldoiron.com.

The Legacy Lives On....

Beverly “Bev” Weatherby, 92, died Sept. 19, 2012, at a Brewer health care center. He was born June 7, 1920, in St. Stephen, New Brunswick, the son of Rutherford and Rachael (Bonness) Weatherby. His home was in Grand Lake Stream, where he grew up in his family’s sporting camp business.

Rutherford & Ray Weatherby

Bev attended Ricker Classical Institute and later graduated from the University of Maine in 1943 with a Bachelor of Science degree in forestry. It was there that he met Alice Christie, the love of his life and his spouse of 69 years. The couple owned and operated Weatherby’s Fishing Resort, Grand Lake Stream, for many years until 1975. Upon retirement, Bev spent his summers guiding fishermen in Forest City, while wintering in St. Petersburg, Fla. Bev thoroughly enjoyed bringing food and cheer to many of the elderly in St. Petersburg, Fla., where he delivered Meals on Wheels for 30 years. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge, a director of Eastern Maine Electric Cooperative and was former selectman of Grand Lake Stream. Bev took great pride in his roots in Grand Lake Stream and held a special affection for Maine’s sporting camp life. He particularly cherished his 24 years of guiding on East Grand and Spednic lakes and the camaraderie of his colleagues in Grand Lake canoes. He often said it was the best years of his life. For many years, Bev and Alice traveled extensively, birding in Australia, Central America and Europe.

We closed Weatherby's up for the winter after the best season of grouse and woodcock hunting in ten. No snow and only a day or two of rain combined with moderate temperatures made for pleasant days fishing on Grand Lake Stream and strolling woods roads for upland game. We broke in a few new gunners and many new anglers this season and hope to continue the tradition in 2013. Our grouse numbers were up again this year and the woodcock plentiful if you know where to look. Fair gunning and good dog work assured there was game on the supper table each night that was expertly prepared Frank and Jeff. The past several years Weatherby's has taken pride in its efforts to introduce clients to hunting. Hunting is generally learned from family members and passed from one generation to the next. As older generations give up the hunt, Weatherby's is stepping up to the plate. We will introduce you to sport of hunting teaching you along the way - Gun safety to dogs, fair chase to cooking your game. No experience required. Ages 10 and up are eligible. Give us a call to discuss your introduction to hunting upland game this year.

Grand news for Weatherby's and its guests surfaced just before the Holidays as the Downeast Lakes Land Trust secured protection of an additional 21,870 acres of forest on the east side of West Grand Lake. For more information about the project and the Downeast Lakes Land Trust visit www.downeastlakes.org.

Hunt for Habitat

October 24-27, 2013, Weatherby's will host a fund raising hunt for the Downeast Lakes Land Trust with a percentage of proceeds going on the ground in Grand Lake Stream, creating more habitat for grouse and woodcock. This year the Land Trust implemented several harvests specific to upland game and proceeds from this hunt will help keep the harvester rolling. Give Jeff a call for more information or to reserve your place for the hunt.
